

Stand

Give me the courage to speak what you say;
To be clear; not cloudy and not be afraid.
To bathe all hearts with love and truth
May they look at me and see only you.

Oh, Lord, my God, help me not cave.
For here or for heaven I trust you to save
I need wisdom on when to sit still
To let the chips fall, as I trust your will.

Protect me from the devil's plan
Help me not fall when I need to stand.
Keep me strong as I walk through pain
I give you my suffering, you give me gain.

Heal my hurts and forgive my sin
That I may be a clean vessel within;
As I speak and where I stand
Will only be led by your mighty hand.

Oh God, give me strength endow me with might
That I will be holy in this difficult fight.
When the road is easy or when it's hard
I will lean into your word; I'll be your bard.

I will purpose each day to walk with you
That my heart and mind align with the truth
To be smart to speak and know when to hush
To usher the wave of your Spirit's rush.
